Why Indonesia?

1 ASEAN's procurement from China grows fastest showing huge potentiality for foreign trade

According to the latest data from the General Administration of Customs of China, trade between China and ASEAN kept growing in 2023, reaching a scale of 6.41 trillion yuan. ASEAN has maintained its status as China's largest trading partner for four consecutive years since 2020. As of 2023, the trade volume between ASEAN and China has increased by 16.8 times in 20 years, with the cumulative two-way investment exceeding US$380 billion and its procurement from China grows fastest in the world.

2 As the largest economy body in ASEAN, Indonesia presents strong development trends

As the largest economy in ASEAN and the only member of the G20 in Southeast Asia, Indonesia maintained a long-term growth rate of 5%. In 2023, Indonesia's GDP reached USD1.41 trillion, ranking 14th in the world. With a population of 276 million, Indonesia is the fourth most populous country in the world, with an average age of less than 30 years old. It is a market with the most development potential and vitality among emerging economies.

3 Rapid development of Indonesian infrastructure leads to urgent demand of hardware tools and fasteners

Indonesia has been vigorously strengthening infrastructure construction including a substantial increase in the construction of roads, bridges, buildings and other projects, so the demand for hardware, tools and fasteners is quite strong. In addition, 90% of commodities in the Indonesian market are imported, and when it comes to building materials, hardware or other products Chinese products are quite competitive in quality and price .

4 Strong alliances forged to seize the largest infrastructure market in Southeast Asia

Fastener Expo Shanghai, Asia's largest fastener expo, has joined hands with Indonesia's local leading exhibition company PERAGA EXPO to jointly create Hardware Tool & Fastener Expo Southeast Asia (HTF). A special fastener area will also be set up on site, strong alliances are forged to seize the largest infrastructure market in Southeast Asia.
